KIM HALFMANN has been the Glasscock County Judge since April 1, 2010. Prior to taking the bench, Judge Halfmann taught elementary school, served as program director for a geriatric-psychiatric unit and worked for the government of New Zealand performing free-lance marketing and public relations functions to promote the Boer goat in the United States. She holds a bachelor's degree in education from Angelo State University.

Along with her duties as judge, she is a current or past Board member for the following organizations: West Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association, 118th District Juvenile Board, Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission, Glasscock County ISD Education Committee, Glasscock County Leadership Advisory Board and Texas Association of Counties.

Judge Halfmann has lifelong roots in the ag industry. She comes from a ranching background and has been married to a farmer in Glasscock County for the past 33 years. They farm irrigated and dryland cotton, wheat and hay and raise Dorper sheep.
